

METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR COMMERCE WITH FULL ANONYMITYABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A method (and system) of conducting business electronically between a first party and a second party, includes providing a third party who knows the identity of the first party but no privacy-compromising information regarding a proposed electronic business transaction between the first and second parties, and conducting the electronic business transaction between the first and second parties through the third party such that the identity of the first party is kept from the 10 second party.